Accession number(s) Acc.Pre.2015.0054, 0068

Provenance Materials were deposited by person(s) unknown at some point before 2015. Materials were created by university faculty between 1894 and 2018.

Processing information Processed by Zachary Washburn, graduate archival assistant. Materials were placed into archival folders and boxes arranged into series. Series II were placed in the rare book collection in the Archives.

Biographical and historical information Materials authored by faculty of Worcester State in this collection date from the late nineteenth century through to 2018. Topics generally relate to courses offered at Worcester State including its era as a Normal School (1875-1932) and later a State Teachers College (1932-1963). Some early works by Arabella Tucker centered on botany, while more recent works cover a wide array of subjects and fields including history, geography, and media studies.

SCOPE AND CONTENT

Materials in this collection represent scholarly contributions of the faculty of Worcester State to their respective fields. A large portion of the early works surround the Normal School model and about the courses offered. Part of this collection includes the newspaper clippings of Robert McGraw, faculty member of the history department, which centered around the history of Worcester State through the 1960s and were clipped from campus and local newspapers.

ARRANGEMENT

This collection is arranged in 2 series.
Series I  Worcester State University Faculty Papers and Related Materials, 1928-1973, n.d.
